

HOW CAN GOD'S LOVE MOTIVATE ME TO BE MORE INTENTIONAL WITH MY LOVE?

OUR FOCUS

St. Isidore Church provides a safe, positive, and nurturing environment so that persons of every background feel included and engaged here.

Our doors are open. We reach out to those who are seeking God's grace and meet them where they are.

St. Isidore Church is a strong, passionate place of faith. Together we will build up our community and share it with those around us.

FR. MARK'S MUSINGS

Because I have a foot in both the Western and Eastern Churches, I am often asked this question: "Can I go to an Eastern Church for mass, and if so, can I receive Holy Communion?" First of all, you should feel free to go to any church whatsoever—in fact, if your spouse is a member of another faith community, you should participate on occasion at his/her church.

Some Protestant churches have liturgies very similar to the Roman Catholic rite—especially Lutheran, Episcopalian, et al. These churches are Western in origin, and centuries ago, these people were part of the Roman Catholic Church. Eastern liturgies, on the other hand, may sound, look, and feel quite different. These differences, however, are superficial—the essential elements of the mass are the same. Some Eastern churches are actually Catholic, i.e. "in communion with Rome," namely Byzantine, Melkite, Maronite, Chaldean, Syro-Malabar, some Ukrainian churches, and others. On the other hand, a Church that is called "Orthodox," i.e. Russian/ Greek Orthodox, and most Armenian churches, is not in communion with Rome.

FR. MARK'S MUSINGS

As for receiving Holy Communion, of course you can and should receive in the Catholic Churches, (Maronite, Chaldean, etc. as seen above), even if their manner of giving communion looks quite different. Go with the flow! In the Maronite tradition, the host is dipped in the Precious Blood by the priest, while in the Byzantine and Melkite traditions, the host is leavened (not unleavened) bread, (a sort of untoasted crouton), soaked in the Precious Blood, and served on a spoon.

As for the Orthodox churches, the legalities of receiving Holy Communion can be confusing. Official Catholic teaching says that we can receive communion in an Orthodox church because their priests are validly ordained, but the Orthodox may not be comfortable with us doing so, and do not normally allow their own people to receive in our churches.

As for the Episcopalian and Lutheran churches, however, it is the exact opposite—our official teaching does not allow us to receive at their churches, whereas they place no restrictions on us receiving in their churches, or them receiving in ours.

I want to emphasize, however, that these issues are not a matter of sin. I have been in Episcopal and Lutheran churches where they expect you to receive Holy Communion, and are almost offended if you do not. In such cases it is a judgment call, and I recommend that you err on the side of charity. You will not be committing sin regardless of what you do, if you follow this principle.

CONNECTING POINT

You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.

We find this quote in both the first reading and Gospel this Sunday. Jesus quotes the first commandment directly as we hear it in the first reading but adds the second as well: to love our neighbor as our self.
So...that's Love God and love your neighbor.

Even though I have heard the commandments many times, each time I hear them, I think of new ways that they can apply to me with where I am in my life.

These two commandments that God gives us are signs of his unconditional love for us. The same type of love he wants us to have for others. I know that God's love for me is unconditional and perfect; no matter what I do or no matter how many times I mess up, he still loves me. I know that I can never match that love... it's just not possible. So rather than trying to figure out how I can emulate His perfect love, I think it's more impactful to think about what I can do to be more intentional in how I love others, to become a better version of myself each day.

If I can just take the pure love that God has for me and refract that out to all of the people that I meet, then I know that I am becoming to be a better example of His love. A great way to think about this is with the concept of light: God's love is pure white light that is shining down on me and through me. I am the prism that refracts the light into many colors. I want these colors to shine out from me in my daily encounters. This is how I can both show my love for God and also for others.

How can you be a prism of God's love today... to be kinder, to be more forgiving, to love more deeply, and more unconditionally than you were yesterday?

Pre-diabetes: Could it be you?

November is Diabetes Awareness Month. Most of us have all heard about Type 1 Diabetes, which usually develops in children and young adults when the pancreas doesn't make insulin, as well as Type 2 Diabetes, which is the most common form of diabetes and is usually diagnosed later in life as adults. But have you heard of prediabetes? The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that 86 million Americans (1 out of 3) have prediabetes. Prediabetes is when your blood sugar level is higher than normal but not high enough yet to be diagnosed as type 2 diabetes. Unfortunately, 15-30% of people with diabetes will develop type 2 diabetes within 5 years. Prediabetes not only increases your risk of developing type 2 diabetes, but also increases your risk of heart disease and stroke, and may lead to serious health complications such as blindness, kidney failure, and loss of toes, feet, or legs.

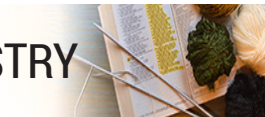

The good news is even if you are pre-diabetic, you can cut your risk of getting type 2 diabetes in HALF, by losing weight, eating healthy, and being more active. So find out if you have prediabetes; see your doctor to get your blood sugar tested. Then eat healthy, be more active, lose weight, and join a CDC recognized Diabetes Prevention Program. Ascension Health offers a FREE proven Diabetes Prevention Program in our area. For registration, visit healthcare.ascension.org/events, or call 1.866.501.3627.

PRAYER BLANKET MINISTRY

Prayer blankets & shawls are available in the office

Who is eligible to receive a blanket or shawl?

Anyone: adults or children afflicted physically or emotionally. In the 3 months since our ministry began, we have dispensed over 70 blankets to those stricken with disease, sickness, or emotional distress and to those who just need to feel the enormous gift of love and warmth that emanates from these small blankets and shawls which are available free of charge in the church office.

(Adapted from St. Margaret of Scotland Prayer Blanket Ministry Brochure)

BABY PANTRY

"He helps us in all our troubles, so that we are able to help others..." (2 Corinthians 1:4)

"While you continue your journey through this world, be thankful for the comforts and pleasures from God. And reach out to others who are suffering. Offering help to hurting people gives meaning to your suffering." (From Jesus Always by Sara Young)

Our Baby Pantry ministry is blessed by your donations. Thank you!

HELP US CREATE A GREAT GUEST EXPERIENCE //
 JOIN THE FIT TEAM AND MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Looking to get more involved with the St. Isidore Church community, but can't fit it into your busy schedule? Do you and your family have great smiles? (We know you do!)

You and your family may be a great FIT for our First Impressions Team (FIT) greeter ministry! All you need to do is arrive about 20-30 minutes before the weekend Mass your family normally attends, pick up your name tag lanyard (we'll have one ready for you), and stand at the various entry doors to the church to welcome our parishioners and visitors to St. Isidore's. It's a simple and easy way to get involved and it does not require any assigned Mass schedule or regular commitment. Just do it when you can at the Mass you and your family are attending.

This greeters' ministry is available to individuals and to families. Please consider joining our team! Call or email me so that I can prepare a name lanyard for you. Karen Bisdorf - 586-202-5912 // bisdorfk@gmail.com

JOHN HILT UPDATE

As many of you know one of our Maintenance Men, John Hilt, was in a serious accident. John is home now continuing with his physical therapy.

CSA MINUTE

“Cultivating the Call,” a regional vocation gathering, will be held at the Church of the Divine Child in Dearborn on Thursday, November 8.

This night of prayer, testimony, and inspiration is for those who work closest with the Church’s future vocations as well as those who encounter potential vocations in their personal or ministerial lives.

National Vocation Awareness Week begins this Sunday. Thanks to your CSA gifts, the archdiocesan Office of Priestly Vocations is able to promote vocations through opportunities for understanding and discerning the Lord’s call. The office hosts discernment overnights and weekends at Sacred Heart Major Seminary as well as discernment days for junior high and high school students and these regional gatherings. It also provides outreach to parishes and schools and vocations literature, brochures, and prayer cards.

What did Ruth say to Naomi as she decided to stay?

Write all the 1's in order. Then return to the top and write all the 2's in order. Do the same for the 3's and the 4's.

Don't	1	from	2	where	3	be	4	urge	1	you	2
you	3	my	4	me	1	Where	2	stay	3	people	4
to	1	you	2	I	3	and	4	leave	1	go	2
will	3	your	4	you	1	I	2	stay	3	God	4
or	1	will	2	Your	3	my	4	turn	1	go	2
people	3	God	4	back	1	and	2	will	3

“ _____
