FR. MARK'S MUSINGS

Being a good speller is a curse. Mistakes that most people don't notice stick out like a sore thumb to us—actually it's more like fingernails on a chalkboard! In my experience, there are four church words that are mispronounced or misspelled more than any others: diocese, pyx, Maronite and pastoral. Some of these have peculiar spellings, or get confused with other words, while others just seem easier to pronounce incorrectly than correctly! Note that three of these words are three-syllable words, but the tendency is to make them into four syllables.

Maronite (MAIR-o-night) is three syllables, not four. This is an Eastern Catholic church with its own distinct liturgy, patriarch, and bishops, located mostly in Lebanon, and places where Lebanese have emigrated. As many of you know, I am Maronite, and the new nearby St. Sharbel Church is Maronite. The Maronite church is named for St. Maron, a Syrian monk who died in 410 AD.

The confusion with the word Maronite is that many people think this church is named for Mary, which is not the case. As a result, many people will say

FR. MARK'S MUSINGS

"marianite," adding an "i" and an extra syllable. (This is incorrect, but just to confuse things further, there actually is a religious order of priests with a similar name, the Marianists—Society of Mary, who run U of Dayton, et al.)

Pastoral (PASS-to-ral) is three syllables, not four. From Latin pastor, meaning herdsman. The head of a parish is called pastor because he "shepherds his flock." A bishop carries a crosier, a stylized shepherd's hook. "Pastoral care" is spiritual care for the sick, the imprisoned, or perhaps someone who is going through a difficult time and needs to speak with a priest. Pastoral care can include the sacraments of anointing, reconciliation, and/or Communion. A "pastoral letter" is issued by a bishop, or group of bishops, to address a particular issue that concerns their flock.

Some people change "pastoral" from a three syllable word to four syllables, by adding an "i" after the r, just as they tend to do with "Maronite." I guess it flows better that way, but it's incorrect!

Pyx (pix). From Greek pyxos, meaning "box," which comes from that same Greek word. This is the little round metal box that we put one or more consecrated hosts in when we bring Holy Communion to the sick on a pastoral visit. The confusion is that when we hear the word "pyx," we may think we are hearing the plural of "pick." Often, a parishioner will ask, "Father, may I have a pick?" I respond, "No, but I'll give a pyx." Then they look at me funny! So, the plural of pyx is pyxes—(I guess!)

Diocese (DYE-o-seize) is three syllables, not four. From Greek dioikesis, meaning "administration." This of course is the jurisdiction of a bishop. The ending "cese" seems to throw people off. Some want to drop the s and say "diocee." Others seem to confuse the noun "diocese" with its adjective form "diocesan," which is pronounced very differently—the accent shifts to the second syllable, and it's four syllables long.

CONNECTING POINT

How can I answer God's call to service in spite of my insecurities?

One of my favorite sayings is "God doesn't call the qualified, He qualifies the called." If you are like me, you have at times felt insecure in becoming more involved here at St. Isidore. You may have thought your voice isn't good enough for the choir, or that you are not holy enough to be a Eucharistic Minister, or not wise enough to be a faith formation teacher, or that you don't know enough to be an altar server, but something amazing happens when someone decides to get more involved in their Church, the Lord always provides.

If you feel for a moment that the Lord is calling you to become more involved, please do so. Fr. Ron, Fr. Mark, and our staff, are all here to help you on your journey. Every time another person steps into ministry we are that much more equipped to handle the mission of the Church-making disciples of all nations. Our priests are not equipped to do this on their own, they need YOU to be faithful to your call and to become involved. If we are able to follow the Lord's command, like the fishermen in the Gospel, we will be blessed. And, this blessing will be abundant!

Take a moment today, right now and offer a prayer to the Lord asking Him what you may do to help further the mission of the Church. Say this prayer every day, until you feel compelled to act.

When you are ready, we are ready to have you join us in the incredible mission of the Church. I look forward to working with you in this unbelievable challenge.

—Chris Kozlowski

ST. VINCENT dePAUL

Pope Gelasius I named February 14th as the feast day of St. Valentine who showed us how to share Christ's love with the poor, sick and imprisoned. We celebrate this day by showing our love to spouses, children, and those in our lives who mean the most to us. Why not spread the love by helping families in our St. Isidore community with their next meal.

ADORATION CHAPEL UPDATE

The Adoration Chapel team is looking for someone to cover the hours of 10 am to 11 am and 2 pm to 3 pm every Tuesday for the months of February and March. Some of our regular team members are in Florida for the winter and we would like you to help us keep continuous coverage. If you would like to cover one of these hours or volunteer for any time on Tuesdays (immediately following morning Mass through closing Benediction at 6 pm) in the Adoration Chapel, please contact Dave Bisdorf at 586-202-7000.

Spending some quiet time before the Blessed Sacrament is such a relaxing and spiritually uplifting occasion. Certainly you can pray anytime and certainly you can pray in the comfort of your own home; but there is something special that we as Catholics feel about being in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament exposed in the monstrance on the Altar. What was once limited as an occasional experience during the year is now available to us every Tuesday. Please come and partake of this wonderful gift!

The Adoration Chapel is located in the Resource Center which is just inside the handicap entrance on the Romeo Plank side of the church.

PRAYER BLANKET MINISTRY

Prayer blankets & shawls are available at no cost in the St. Isidore church office.

"It is one of the most beautiful compensations in life, that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself."

- RALPH WALDO EMERSON

"Our caring affirms a person's worth. This affirmation is what our Lord wants each of us to do. He wants us to do kind actions without anything in return. We can point others to God because we have shown His love for them in a very real way. When we give to the poor, God pours His love, peace and forgiveness into our hearts and into our lives."

- ANONYMOUS

Please stop in the office and get a prayer blanket or shawl for someone who needs comfort.

Thank you from "The Comfort Crafters"

CSA MINUTE

EVANGELIZATION

Mercy Nights throughout the Archdiocese are helping our faithful and friends they invite who may not attend Mass regularly to experience Christ in a less formal setting. Like the "Come, Encounter Christ!" events, Mercy Nights feature scripture and the presence of Jesus through adoration, reconciliation and music.

This program of the archdiocesan Office of Evangelization began last month, on various Friday evenings throughout the Archdiocese. Two Mercy Nights remain: at St. Thecla Parish in Clinton Township on February 15, and a Spanish version at the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Detroit on February 22. Each begins at 7 p.m.

Your CSA gifts support the Evangelization Office's work of helping people encounter God in a new way, such as through Mercy Nights and Kerygma Nights.

Jesus Calls His First Disciples

Jesus was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret. There was a crowd around Him listening to the word of God. At the water's edge He saw two _____.

Connect the dots to discover what Jesus saw. Fill in the blank above.

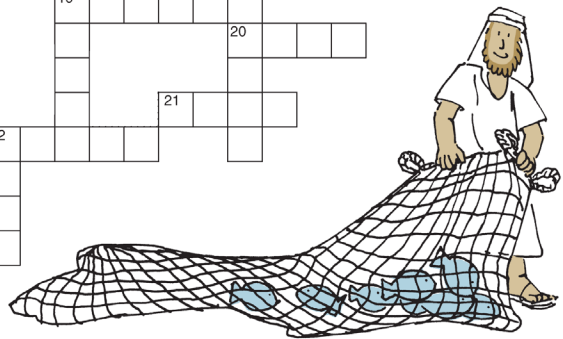

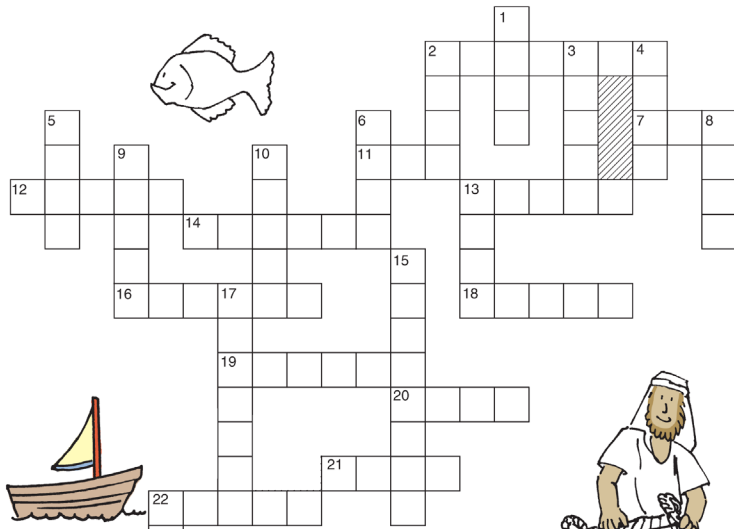

Jesus got into the boat belonging to Simon and asked him to put out a little from shore. He taught the people from the boat. Then He said to Simon, "Put out into deep water, and let down the nets for a catch."

Fit these words into the puzzle, then transfer them to the lines to find out what happened.
